

PRESS RELEASE

June 22, 2012

Honolulu - Ansaldo Honolulu JV is proud to announce their support of the 2012 Independence Day at Maunalua Bay celebration.

On July 4, the annual Independence Day celebration will provide music, entertainment and fireworks in the night sky over Maunalua Bay in Hawaii Kai. Each year, the Independence Day at Maunalua Bay Foundation hosts the event, donating 75% of the proceeds for scholarships for East Honolulu students.

“We are committed to working closely with the community and supporting local schools to prepare and train the next generation of transit professionals,” said Enrico Fontana, project manager for Ansaldo Honolulu JV. “Sponsoring a great event like Independence Day at Maunalua Bay is just one example of our support for the community.”
